Partnering Resources Founder Maya Townsend Speaks at Gartner EXP HR Summit

CAMBRIDGE, MA, Feb 15, 2008 – Maya Townsend, founder and lead consultant at Partnering Resources, a local consultancy that helps companies align, adapt, and achieve results, will speak at the Gartner Executive Programs HR Summit in Las Vegas on April 10.

Maya will talk about informal networks: the hidden web of relationships that fuel organizational activity, innovation, decision-making, and strategy. Specifically, she will discuss 7 hidden networks that power the organization and the 3 most important “stealth” players in the organization whose roles can make or break organizational change. Partnering Resources white papers on these topics can be found at www.partneringresources.com/resources.html.

The Gartner EXP HR is an exclusive membership-based program for executive-level IT and HR professionals in North America. Gartner EXP HR offers applied research and advice from experts, while providing opportunities to connect with peers and noted practitioners from best-in-class organizations. The biannual Gartner EXP HR Summits presents Gartner analysts and industry leaders in a network-oriented setting. This Spring’s HR Summit will convene at the Mandalay Bay Hotel in Las Vegas.
